

PhotoZone Graphy Gallery Submission Terms and Conditions

Before submitting your images, please carefully review the following guidelines and policies. By uploading your content, you agree to comply with all terms outlined below.

1. Content Guidelines

To maintain the quality and standards of our gallery, all submitted images must meet the following standards:

- Images must be relevant, appropriate, and suitable for public display. Content should align with the theme and quality standards of the PhotoZone Graphy gallery. Low-quality, blurry, or visually unclear images may be rejected.
- Content containing nudity, explicit material, violence, hate speech, or any offensive, discriminatory, or harmful themes will not be accepted under any circumstances.
- Images that are heavily edited, over-filtered, distorted, or significantly changed from their original form may be rejected. Submissions created fully or partially using AI tools may also be declined to keep the gallery authentic.
- Submissions must be original and created by the photographer. Any images copied, downloaded, or taken from other photographers, websites, or sources without proper ownership or permission will be strictly rejected.
- Watermarked images, logos, promotional banners, or images containing excessive text overlays may not be accepted, as they reduce the visual consistency of the gallery.
- Images must not violate any copyright, trademark, or intellectual property laws. By submitting, you confirm that you own the content or have full legal permission to use and share it.
- Content that promotes illegal activities, misinformation, or unethical behavior will not be accepted.
- Repeated submissions of the same or very similar images (spam submissions) may result in rejection or temporary restriction from submitting further content.
- Images should maintain a reasonable resolution and aspect ratio. Extremely low-resolution files or improperly cropped images may be rejected.
- PhotoZone Graphy reserves the right to determine whether a submission meets its standards and guidelines, and all decisions regarding acceptance or rejection are final.

Due to the high volume of daily submissions, we may not always be able to provide specific feedback regarding rejected images.

2. Submission Review Process

- Our team reviews all submissions to ensure they meet our standards.
- We aim to process and publish accepted images within 24 hours.
